A fine horse belonging to W. R. Hinnant, in the Eagle Rock neighborhood, some 13 miles East of Raleigh, was killed by lightning a few days since.

The match game between the Swift-foot and Atheletic Base Ball Clubs yesterday evening resulted in 17 runs each in 6 innings. There will be another game to-morrow afternoon.

Thunder storms are now of almost daily occurrence, and deaths by lightning attend almost all of them. Almost all the deaths have taken place in houses where the persons killed were sitting at doors, windows, or near fire places. Avoid all such places. They form drafts, and drafts furnish the best of conductors to the lightning. And keep away from the shelter of trees. Take the rain, but keep in the open ground if you happen to be caught out in a storm.

Attention is called to the sale of valuable building lots in the city of Danville on the 15th day of July. They will be sold by C. D. Langhorne, Auctioneer. Danville is now rapidly growing, and its great advantage as a manufacturing point begin to be understood. Population and capital are flowing in, and the sale of these lots offer inducements to safe and valuable investment. Descriptive pamphlets may be seen at this office.

☞ Persons leaving the city for the Summer can have the DAILY NEWS sent to them for 75 cents per month, postage prepaid. The address may be changed as often as desirable.

THE "SHAPLEY ENGINE."—We invite especial attention to the double-column advertisement elsewhere of Messrs. Julius Louis & Co., concerning this engine, which is considered second to none in the country, being adapted to almost every class of work. An examination of the engine is asked.

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE.—Owing to some inaccuracies in the manuscript of the advertisement of the above institution, an error or two crept into the type which we desire to correct. The next session opens on Monday the 30th of August, not the first Monday as published. The school is in Lenoir, Caldwell county, not Lenoir county. The school has such a celebrity that the last error will deceive no one, but the first is important to be rectified. See the advertisement in another column.

THE RALEIGH ARTILLERY AND THE NATIONAL SALUTE.—In consequence of sickness near the Armory of the Raleigh Light Artillery, this Company will not fire a national salute on Monday as it was intended they would do. We are authorized to State that Capt. Stronach, having been notified by one of the officers of the Mulligan Guard that there will be a parade of the Guard Monday night, gives permission to any member of the Artillery Company to wear their uniform on that occasion.

SUPERIOR COURT—A CORRECTION.—In noticing the trial in the Superior Court, of the case of the State against Wiley V. Clifton and another, in our yesterday's issue, we used the expression "one important witness having died, and one being absent, the jury was compelled to render a verdict of not guilty." In this we fear that we may have done unintentional injustice to Mr. Clifton. We learn that he had at hand evidence which had it become necessary would have established his innocence. Mr. Clifton has hitherto borne a good character, both in this community and in Franklin, the county of his birth.

MOVEMENTS of COTTON IN RALEIGH.—Receipts for week ending July 3rd, 1875, 295 bales, market closing 14½c; for same week last year, 232; Increase in receips for week this year, 63. Whole receipts since 1st, Sept. 1874, 34.442; Corresponding time last year, 25.413; Increase in receipts this year, 8.919.

The market has been more active during past week and several lots have been sold on basis 14¼ to 14¼ for best grades. We have had good rains within past few days, which was beginning to be needed. We now have good reports from all sections as to the growing crops, both of cotton and corn.

COTTON STATES AGRICULTURAL CONGRESS—A meeting of the committee of arrangements for the 2nd annual session of the Cotton States Agricultural Congress was held at the Office of the North Carolina Agricultural Society yesterday afternoon.

The following gentlemen were present: From the State Grange—A. T. Mial, R. T. Fulghum, and John Gatling.

Board of Trade—John Nichols, B. L. Bingham.

N. C. Agricultural Society—Major J. C. Winder, P. E. Hines, Col. J. M. Heck.

City of Raleigh—His Honor J. H. Separk, Mayor, R. H. Jones, Alderman.

The meeting was organized by calling Maj. J. C. Winder to the chair.

Capt. R. T. Fulghum was appointed Secretary.

Maj. Winder explained the object of the meeting and stated that His Excellency Gov. Brogden had kindly tendered the use of the Hall of the House of Representatives for holding the session of the Congress.

The following committees were appointed:

On Railroad Arrangements—Capt. A. B. Andrews, J. M. Heck, R. H. Jones.

On Hotel Accommadations—Messrs. Nichols and A. T. Mial.

On Conveyances—Bingham, Manley and Whitaker.

On Ways and Means—Messrs. Catling, Heck, Walter Clarke, A. M. McPheeters, W. G. Upchurch, J. C. Blake, Kemp. P. Battle, Jno. Armstrong, Len H. Adams.

On Reception—Capt. R. T. Fulghum, Col. J. C. Whitford, Maj. B. C. Manley.

On Excursions—Maj. J. C. Winder, His Honor Mayor Separk and Dr. P E Hines.

His Excellency Gov. Brogden and His Honor Mayor Separk were requested to deliver suitable addresses of welcome on the occasion.

After transacting some further business of a minor character the meeting adjourned until Monday next at 5 p. m.

The committee on Ways and Means will meet at the Office of the N. C Agricultural Society on Monday (to-morrow) at 10 a. m. promptly.

THE WIFE MURDER!

The Body of Mrs. Scott Partin Cut to Pieces and Buried in a Guano Bag!

The search yesterday in the Panther Branch Township with a view of developing some facts in connection with the mysterious disappearance of the wife of Scot Partin, in February last, resulted in the finding of the body of the murdered woman buried in Little Black Creek Swamp, some mile from his father's residence.

The unfortunate woman had been cut to pieces, her legs broken in order to enable the husband-fiend to place his murdered wife in a guano bag, and had been placed in the morass which at that point was almost impassable. The parties engaged in the search was accidentally directed to to the spot by a dead cow that had fallen into the mire and had become the prey of buzzards. Near the cow on the surface of the marsh-water a small spot indicated the presence of something unusual, when a vigorous probing into the mud and water discovered the bag contaning the mutilated body, which was still in a good state of preservation.

The murderer has been seen in the neighborhood some three times in the last two weeks, and was seen the last time on Thusday, but he escaped arrest. Now that the murder has been made a certainty, every effort will be made to arrest him at once. He is some 23 years of age, about 5 feet 10 inces high, is light complexioned and has a down-cast look. He was employed as guard at the State Penitentiary some two years since. Governor Brogden should at once offer a reward for this brutal fiend.

It is thought that other parties will be arrested as accessaries after the fact.

An intense feeling prevails in the neighborhod of the murder.

The murdered woman was the daughter of Mr. Henderson Walton, of Buckhorn Township.

TO THE MOUNTAINS, OR AWAY TO THE SEA.—The N. C. R. R. Co. has struck the right vein, and takes the correct view of the situation when it supposes everybody will get away who can from the heated and dusty city to the refreshing air and verdant slopes of the mountains, or to the life inspiring breezes and sparkling waters of the sea side. But the company knows that whatever temptations these pleasant retreats hold out, they are not accessible even by railroads to all who would seek them until fares were proportioned somewhat to the hardness of the times.—And the company has considered this matter and made the charges so low that few can plead the excuse of inability.

The summer arrangements are now in operation. We select for illustration of the fare, the charges to Asheville from a few points. From Raleigh to Asheville and return $18.70. From Goldsboro, $21.65. From Tarboro $25.25. From Charlotte $13.45. These rates are for the round trip. To Old Fort, the charge is $4 less.

To Morehead City tickets for the round trip are issued from Charlotte at $9.55, Salisbury 8.95, Greensboro 6.75, Hillsboro 5.55, Raleigh, 4.35, Selma 4.35.

Tickets to Morehead are good for ten days only and are not transferable.

These low rates will no doubt induce more to travel, and the authorities of the rail road company are entitled to the thanks of the public for their considerate liberality.

REGISTRATION IN THE CITY.—The fact seems not to be generally understood in the city that an entirely new registration is necessary throughout the city for the Convention election in August, this necessity being occasioned by the change of Wards in the city under the late act of the Legislature. Each voter within the corporate limits of Raleigh will consequently be required to register anew before he can vote for the candidates for Convention on the first Thursday in August. This does not affect any voter outside of the city, and no new registration is required throughout the State. To accommodate this necessity, Registrars have been appointed in each Ward of the city, and the books are now opened at the following places:

1st Ward—Upchurch's Coach Shop, Hargett street, M. B. Barbee Registrar.

2nd Ward—Basement of old Cape Fear Bank, D. A. Wicker Registrar.

3d Ward—Courthouse, J. J. Lewis, Registrar.

4th Ward—Norfleet Dunston's shoe shop, J. P. Prairie Registrar.

5th Ward—Best's store, Hillsboro street, R. W. Best Registrar.

Some persons have confounded this registration with that which is necessary, on the part of those who failed from any cause to register at the late municipal election, in order to vote on the 15th inst., upon the question of funding the debt of the city. The books for this purpose are open at the Mayor's Office.

NO PAPER TUESDAY.—The NEWS, in honor of the Fourth of July, will observe Monday, and in consequence thereof, no paper will be issued from this office on Tuesday morning.

OUR LIVING AND OUR DEAD.—The July number is on our table. With its beautiful new cover and 144 pages of attractive matter and its exceeding low rates, it should be in every hand. Raleigh itself should almost support it. The rest of the State should surely secure its success without peradventure.

In looking over the copious table of contents, what do we find? Let us turn over the pages that we may see. First comes an installment of the truthful, clear and timely history of the war by Mr. John Paris. The important battles around Richmond are described accurately and lucidly, and in the former, the account quite interesting. Next we have two poems,—one on the Mecklenburg Declaration, by Wm. C. Elam, of Fayetteville: the other on Gen. W. D. Pender, by Prof. W. L. Hargrave. Then comes a continuation of the Mecklenburg Centennial, with the main portions of the excellent address by Hon. John M. Bright, of Tennessee. Gen. J. H. Lane, of Virginia, who commanded an excellent N. C. brigade, contributes an interesting article on the death of Stonewall Jackson, showing that it was his brigade that did the fatal firing. Then follows a touching "Memorial Sketch" of Lieut. Thomas A. Owen, one of the youthful and heroic martyrs of the war. Next comes a "Retrospective Glance" from Mr. Kingsbury, in which he treats of some of the leading events that preceded the battle of Alamance in 1771. Mr. Johnston Jones entertains us with a pleasant sketch of the 20th of May that is timely and appropriate. Then we have the proceedings of the first meeting of the North Carolina Historical Society, which closes the "Historical Department" of the magazine.

In the "Literary Department, Miss Harris adds two chapters to her highly entertaining story, "Margaret Rosselyn," that is appearing serially. Some touching lines from the late Miss Dimmock, whose sad, tragic death excited so much genuine sympathy follow. Christian Reid continues her beautiful "Summer Idyl," and Mr. Kingsbury concludes his "First Paper" on Sainte Beuve, besides contributing two brief editorials.

In the "Educational Department" we have quite a variety of matter. Rev. Dr. Smedes furnishes a history of his famous school founded in 1842—St. Mary's of this city. There is a sweet and tender poem by the late Rev. Dr. Hawks. Dr. S. S. Satchwell, an able physican and interesting writer, contributes a valuable essay on "School Hygiene," and the associate editor, Mr. Kingsbury, keeps up his various departments—"Familiar Quotations"—"Marginalia"—"Authors and Publishers," besides editorials on "Study English," and "American Honors Freely Bestowed." There are in addition many other articles that are at once pleasurable and edifying.

Who will say that this is not an inviting bill of fare? We are glad to learn that latterly the subscriptions are increasing, and that Gov. Vance, Mr. Bradford, of Washington City and other distinguished writers who have not yet appeared, will contribute to the August number, in addition to the already highly respectable array of contributors. We hope the reader will at once subscribe, if he has not done so, as it is the beginning of a new and enlarged volume. Price $3 a year in advance.

ANOTHER SAD CASE OF DEATH FROM LIGHTNING.—We learn of another sad instance of death from lightning in this county. On Friday morning about 8 o'clock, the house of Mrs. Elina Todd, in the Eagle Rock section some 13 miles east of Raleigh, was struck by lightning, passing down the chimney and after reaching a sitting room it glanced upon a window adjoining and thence down, striking Miss Todd, a young lady some 17 years of age, who was sitting immediately by the window and leaning against the same, upon the back of her neck, breaking her neck and dislocating her shoulder and throwing both her and her chair to the floor. The lightning then passed through the floor immediately under the chair which Miss Todd was occupying, making a large hole in the floor. The frame of the window was thrown outdoors while the sash (the window was down at the time) was thrown into the room and immediately at the feet of Mrs. Todd who was sitting near. Mrs. Todd was severely shocked by the lightning but received no positive injury.

"A NEW HOTEL IN RALEIGH.—On the corner of Wilmington and Hargett Streets, Capt. C. H. Thomas has recently opened the Central Hotel, which we don't hesitate to commend to the travelling public. Capt. T. and his family cannot be surpassed in keeping a hotel, as all will find out who lose them. Terms only $2,00 per day."

We copy the above from the Asheville Citizen, and from a personal trial of the Central Hotel, we are prepared to endorse every word said by friend Furman. We hope an appreciative public will second the effort of Capt. Thomas to establish in our midst another first-class hotel.

BANKS TO BE CLOSED.—Monday being a national holiday, all the banks of this city will be closed on that day.

THE SUPREME COURT.—This Court met yesterday at the usual hour, all the Justices present. The following cases were considered.

J. M. Tucker vs. O. Surritt, from Cleaveland. Case dismissed at cost of appellant.

O. M. Torrence vs. C. C. R. R. dismissed at cost of appellant.

Mr. H. P. Bagwell brings us a cotton bloom. Others are ahead of him in making known the forwardness of his crop, but not really so in fact, as he had blooms on the 26th of June. Mr. Bagwell is an energetic young farmer, not ashamed to do his own work, who made 16 bales of cotton last year with one horse besides a full supply of corn, &c. He expects to make 20 bales this year with the same force.

TREASURER JENKINS' REPLY.—Public rumor on the street says that the Treasurer has made the following reply to the resolutions sent him by G. H. Alford and others at Mr. Turner's instance. Whether the rumor is correct or not, it has served to amuse the town:

TREASURER'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., July 1st 1875.

G. H. Alford, Esq:

Sir—Mr. Joe Turner's resolutions have been received through you. In reply, will say they have been respectfully referred to Dr. Eugene Grissom, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum, for examination and report.

With great respect, &c.,
DAVID A. JENKINS,
Public Treasurer.

AN OLD FIELD DIBONANZA.

How a Little Town Picked Up Half a Million of Dollars—The Despised Blackberry Put Alongside of King Cotton—Fun and Profit for the Army of "Pickers."

Our city readers all know Col. W. D. Chipley, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. A walking cyclopedia—a man profuse of information, and yet thoroughly careful as to what he says, always on the lookout with pencil carried on the half-cock, and paper always ready—he is a treasure to the newspaper men, just as he is invaluable to the great railroad he serves.

We met him yesterday, and obtained from him some interesting information, which we lay herewith before our readers. It was about the blackberry crop. He let a new light in on this hitherto despised berry, and put it up a notch or two in our estimation. It is known that in his connection with the Midland Line he has much to do with the arranging of freights along the line of his roads from here to Baltimore. Last year the first of August he received a request from a mercantile house in Salem, N. C., asking him to correct an overcharge on five car loads of blackberries that this house had shipped from Salem to Chicago: He was surprised at hearing of this novel shipment and rode down to Salem that night to look into it. He found the country around Salem flooded with circulars from Geo. H. White & Co., of Chicago, offering 15 cents a pound for dried blackberries in any quantity. It cost just one sent per pound to deliver these berries in Chicago, and hence the Salem, merchants could net 14 cents per pound, and paid from 7 to 12 cents for them, from the hands of the pickers. He found that this was the third year since the traffic had been introduced into North Carolina, and that it had grown to be an enormous source of revenue. He found by incontestable proof that the small town of Salem, with hardly 2,000 inhabitants, shipped over three millions of pounds of dried blackberries, for half a million of dollars. Or to put it down to a basis that will make it appreciable, they received for their blackberry crop just what they would have received for six thousand bales of cotton at fifteen cents per pound. The crop is of course abundant—almost infinite. The old fields literally swarm with the busy pickers during the season. Frequently whole families turn out at early dawn and pick berries till dark. A bushel of berries will yield twelve pounds of dried fruit; at fifteen cents per pound this will make the fruit worth $1:80 per bushel. It is estimated that it costs two cents per pound to dry the fruit. It is dried in the simplest manner; being simply spread out over dry boards and left in the sun. The smallest child in the family can watch the berries as they are drying and carry them through the whole process. Deduct from the gross cost one cent per pound for freights, two cents for drying and, say, two cents for merchant's profit, and we see that the berries will net the pickers about ten cents per pound or $1 20 per bushel. A child can easily pick a bushel per day. A laborer, with five or six children, or a widow, with a lot of bairns, find it a perfect God-send to find them yielding a revenue of $1 20 each per day. Mr. Chipley says that the traffic runs along through the little towns of Salem, Greensboro, Winston, High Point, etc., and that during "the season" the streets of these little towns are lined with men, women and children bartering off their blackberries, and purchasing their groceries. Instead of July and August being the dullest months in this section, they are the busiest, and all because a source of revenue heretofore wasted has been turned to account. The berries are shipped from these towns by the car load, and of course it makes quite an item with various freight lines to control the carrying of the crop. Mr. Chipley had two men employed last season simply to canvass in the interests of his line for this traffic, and will put them to work again this year. He thinks that not less than ten millions of dried blackberries were shipped from North Carolina last year, thus bringing into the State one million and a half of dollars. He learns from the merchants in Salem that their orders from Chicago are unlimited. That they could sell a hundred times what they do, if they could get the berries. The berries are used for pies, for eating, and for distilling purposes. They are exported to Europe in large quantities, and especially to Germany, they are a great luxury, and their market value is quoted regularly during the season in all the Western prices current.

A ROMP[illegible] Dog.—The Erie (Pennsylvania) Dispatch says: "One of the prettiest sights to be seen in the East Park yesterday was a large fox-hound and a little child between one and two years old rolling on the grass together. It was hard to tell which enjoyed the sport most. Occasionly the little fellow would stretch himself at full length on the dog, remaining in that position some time while the latter gazed at his juvenile friend with a placid smile of satisfaction. There were other dogs in the park, and sometime the hound's attention was diverted by the canines, and he would trot across the lawn, and plunging boldly into the thickest of the sport, lay hold of his friend. Then he would get him down upon the grass, and they would have some more fun together.

In the prospects that drinks are about to become patriotic, Prohibition seems further off than ever. Little as we like it, the fact remains that reconciliation in the next year or two threatens to be largely a matter of beverages. Old soldiers want to wash their resentment away. One of the South Carolina soldiers in Boston, drinking with some friends the day after the Bunker Hill Centennial, exhibited a marked interest in the entrance of a stranger and eyed him closely. Soon the Carolinian asked if he knew him. "No." Were you not in the war?" "Yes." "And you were once stationed at such a place?" "Yes." "And took part in such a skirmish?" "Yes." "Well, I thought so," said the Southerner, lifting his hat and disclosing a large scar on his forehead; "there is your sabre-mark, my boy; come up and take a drink." And then the parties took a Centennial cocktail.

Miss Florence Tilton is engaged to be married shortly to Mr. A. B. Martin, the witness who figured in the trial as the frequent visitor of Mrs. Tilton's. He has been playing the part of the mutual friend in trying to bring Mrs. and Mr. Tilton together again, and reconciliating them.—Cincinati Commercial.

Mr. Tennyson, or his publisher, receives the handsome sum of $15,000 or $20,000 annually from compesers who make a business of setting laureate's poems to music. The charge for permission to set a poem has been fixed at $25 and the applications average two or three a day.

A whole year has been completed since Charlie Ross was stolen away and yet in despite of the energy and intelligence, backed by unlimited money displayed in searching for him, he is to-day more surely lost than he was twelve months ago.

As the young lady remarked about the infant, "How sweet! but how bald for one so young!"

Tucked way down in the corner of the Christian woman's heart forever lurks that sentiment dear to all the sex: "A new bonnet, or no church."

A SELF-ADVERTISING REMEDY.—There are certain proprietary articles that advertise themselves. Among these are Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It may be truly said of this celebrated remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, and antidote to malaria, that the contents of every bottle is an advertisement, since its good effects so decidedly and promptly evince themselves as invariably to elicit favorable comment from those who use it. This is peculiarly true in regard to localities invaded by chills and fever, and other types of malaria, for which it is a recognized specific. Such disorders being epidemic, the question what is the best remedy and treatment? naturally presents itself to everybody in the vicinity, and is made the subject of general inquiry. A family benefited by the blitters communicates the fact to its neighbors, who in turn become patrons of the great remedy and proclaim its efficacy. This explains why it has become the most popular of American household medicines, and why its popularity is continually on the increase. jy 5—DeWlw.

IN OUR article of yesterday we named Mr. K. P. Battle as Chairman of the Committee on Claims, at the session of 1868. We should have said Col. J. C. Harper. This gentleman has always been conspicuous for his integrity, and for his accurate financial knowledge and great sagacity in financial matters. During the previous Legislature, he was Chairman of the Joint Committee of Finance. He was subsequently a member of Congress from the Burke District.

MR. R. W. SINGELTARY.

We are happy in adding to our list of good and true men, candidates for the Convention, the name of Mr. R. W. Singeltary, of Wilson. Mr. S. is worthy of the honor, and the Convention will be honored by his presence. He was a tried and true soldier of the Confederacy during the war, since the war equally a true and tried citizen of the State, battling for true rights of civil warfare with the same vigor that nerved his arm in the strife of battle.

Mr. Singeltary is the editor of the Wilson Plain Dealer, and his nomination is a just tribute to his bold, manly, and able advocacy and defence of the true principles of government.

HON. T. J. JARVIS.

We are more than rejoiced to learn that this gentleman had been nominated by the Democrats of Pitt for the Convention. The Convention of 1868 has never had a more determined foe than he. In the Legislature of 1870, when the first propositions looking towards the abrogation of it, he came out so conspicuously in the debates that followed, as to place him in the front rank among the able men of the Legislature. No man in the House showed more knowledge of the principles of constitutional law, none more appreciation of the evils of the present Constitution, none more sagacity in detecting those evils and none more eloquence in exposing them.

Mr. Jarvis will prove himself a most able and valuable component of the Convention, to which he brings a mind stored with material appropriate to the work, and experience sharpened by practice in Constitutional discipline.

THE GIST OF THE WHOLE MATTER.

The editor of the Sentinel has for ten days been arraigning the Legislature for either negligently or fraudulently allowing to pass a bill which he said "would rob the State of one and a half millions dollars." The bill appears in full on another page, and Mr. Turner while kicking up a dust about the bill has purposely refrained from publishing it. In a nut-shell this is what it amounts to. In March '68 the Convention loaned to the Chatham Railroad (now Raleigh & Augusta Railroad) $1,200,000 of State Bonds to aid in its construction and to secure the repayment of that sum and interest, took mortgage bonds of the railroad, with a proviso that the road could at any time pay back to the State $1,200,000 and interest of State Bonds, and take up its bonds. The road did commence paying off the State, and the Supreme Court decided that any valid bonds of the State, outstanding March 1868, could be received. The road, as we are informed by the State Treasurer, had up to Jan. 1, '75, paid into the State Treasury about $900,000 of various classes of bonds issued before March 1868. The Treasurer had some little doubt whether this class of bonds i. e., those issued for Internal Improvements during the war, but under acts passed prior to the war, could be received.

Sion H. Rogers, Attorney General, in 1866, had given his opinon that they were untainted with war purposes, and were valid. Mr. Kemp P. Battle, Treasurer of the State in 1867, had regarded them as valid, and funded the coupons on them. The Legislature this winter regarded them as valid by the Act "to compromise the State debt" ordered them to be funded, and placed them in the same class with the identical $1,200,000 issued by the State to the Chatham Railroad. The Act in question was passed directing the Treasurer to take them. This is the result. The State increased its debt $1,200,000 to aid the Chatham Railroad and took mortgage bonds of the Railroad to secure repayment. It also provided the railroad could at any time return to the State a like amount of State bonds as it had received, and take up its Bonds. When the road has finished paying in, the State debt will be decreased $1,200,000, and interest. As $700,000 paid in before the passage of the Act and necessarily only a small proportion of the remainder can be had in the bonds of the class under consideration, the result will be of very little importance to any body. To the State it can make no difference, as long as she is paid in valid bonds. The bonds she has been receiving (as its Treasurer says) are of equal or greater value in the market than the bonds [$1,200,000] issued by the State to the road. Will Mr. Turner now say how the Legislature has through negligence or fraud allowed a bill to pass to rob the State of $1,500,000. In the language of Major Jones, "Cousin Pete has made a bominable fool of himself."

THE CANBY CONSTITUTION.

The Republicans set up a mighty howl over the proposed Convention, because it will undo a work which they claim to be the work of the true people of North Carolina. We assert that it was not the work of the people of North Carolina either in their original or representative capacity. It is a matter of notoriety that on the one hand the exercise of the right of suffrage had been abridged by the exclusion of all who "had given aid and comfort to the rebellion," whether in council or in the field, all who owned a certain amount of property—by the exclusion of all in fact who ought by intelligence to have had a voice in the framing of a constitution, or by their interests in property should have had some control for its protection. And the right was expanded as to another class—the recently liberated slave who was at once made a free man and a voter to control by his ballot the most momentous deed of civilized society.

But even with this material to work with, the Convention of 1868 did not proceed from the spontaneous movement of the people—if these can be called the people.

In 1865 the white people of North Carolina willingly abolished slavery, and conferred upon all persons of color the right to testify in the courts as a protection to their rights. In March 1867 for political purposes, the Radical Congress passed the Reconstruction Acts, setting aside thereby, the Constitution and laws of North Carolina, which had been framed by a Convention of the people of North Carolina, held in the Fall of 1865. The Government of the State was vested in a General of the United States Army as District Commander. This commander, Gen. Canby submitted the question to the people (!) whether North Carolina should have another Convention or not. But the submission of the question to the people was as much a mockery as was the subsequent ratification by the people. It was a military operation as much so as the ordering of the movements of regiments, brigades and the other component parts of an army.

We have said that the Convention was a bayonet constitution. If military origin, military supervision, and military approval make it so, then it is much so as if the Constitution had been promulgated as a military order without going through the forms of discussion in Convention and subsequent submission to the people for ratification.

We have not by us the orders of Gen'l. Canby commanding the election, but here is the order commanding the assembly of the Convention on a day fixed by the commanding officer. See how the forms of civil law are overridden by the vigorous, imperative style of the military commander! The order prefaces the proceedings of the journal of the Convention of 1868, and will be found on the 1st page of the volume:

HEADQUARTERS 2ND MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, (for N. Carolina,)
December 31, 1867.

GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 15.

At the election held in the State of North Carolina, on the 19th and 20th days of November, 1867, pursuant to General Orders, No. 101, from these Headquarters, dated October 18, 1867, a majority of the registered voters of the said State having voted on the question of holding a Convention, and a majority of the votes cast being in favor of holding such Convention, the delegates elected thereto, and hereinafter named, are hereby notified, in conformity with the provisions of the fourth section of the act of Congress of March 23, 1867, to assemble in Convention in the City of Raleigh, North Carolina, at noon, on Tuesday, the 14th day of January, 1868, for the purpose of framing a constitution and civil government according to the provisions of the aforesaid Act of the 23d day of March, 1867, and of the Act of the 21 day of March, 1867, to which it is supplementary.

A copy of this order will be furnished to each of the persons hereinafter named, and shall be the evidence of his having been elected as a delegate to the aforesaid Convention.

The labors of the Convention were submitted to the people for ratification, the same disqualifications of suffrage still existing as to the large and important class of voters before spoken of. After the election, the votes were transmitted to Raleigh, and the ballot boxes then sent to Charleston, S. C., to the commanding General, and whether they were ever scrutinized or not, rested with the supreme will and pleasure of his potent Excellency. The Constitution was declared duly ratified and put in force.

We ask, if it is not in all its essentials of origin and authentication a bayonet Constitution?

St. John's Day at Oxford—The Wants of the Orphan Asylum.

The Oxford Leader gives an interesting account of the Masonic pic-nic and celebration of St. John's Day at that place, which occasion passed off most agreeably to the hundreds present. We give the following extracts bearing upon the Orphan Asylum, its necessities and the efforts made by Mr. Mills to keep the institution in safe waters:

* * * * * * * *

The programme of the afternoon was as follows: singing and dialogues by the Orphans, speech by Mr. Moore explaining the present condition of the Institution, and telling of his past troubles, of the many times he had risen in the morning with 106 children, four or five teachers, the matron, and several servants and employees of the Institution on his hands, without knowing where their food for that day was to come from. Many mornings had the outlook been enough to appall the stoutest among them. On several occasions they had been literally without meat, and once twelve (12) lbs. was all they had for one day. "Let the head of a family," said Mr. Moore, "find himself with six or eight children on his hands, nothing to eat in the house, no money on hand or coming in, or no work to do by which he could earn some. This would give some idea of the trials of the Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum."

At the conclusion of there marks of Mr. Moore, Major Littlejohn said "that as the benefits of the Asylum were granted to those who were not children of Masons as well as to those who were he hoped that some of the gentlemen present would come forward and address the assembly, and he called on Col. J. S. Amis, who responded by a ten minutes speech which added between twenty-five and thirty dollars to the treasury of the Asylum.

* * * * * * * *

In conclusion we must say that the success of the Pic Nic, Lecture, and the celebration generally was far beyond the most ardent hopes of those who had the management of the affair. The total sum realized amounting to $225.10, which will be a great help to the Institution, and that too at a time when the treasury was completely empty.

Heroism at Sea.

Six seamen of the steamship Indiana, of the American line, John Flun, John Keefe, John Williams, Charles Hendrichson, Matthew Power and Mike Corif, were recently presented in London with medals, by the Shipwrecked Mariner's Society, in recognition of their heroic conduct in saving life at sea, under circumstances of great peril. Led by R. W. Sargent, now captain of the steamship Abbotsford, they manned the lifeboat in a heavy sea, the ship rolling violently, and proceeded to the rescue of ten of the crew of the Avena, of Sligo, which was dismasted, and had seven feet of water in the hold. They succeeded in saving the lives of all the men, though the sea was so heavy that the lifeboat was swamped alongside the ship. It appeared that the Avena was passed about three hours before the Indiana hove in sight by a large steamship, the sea running so high that it was impossible to render assistance. A framed and glazed testimonial from the Shipwrecked Mariner's Society had also been sent for Capt. James T. Morse, (the marine superintendent of the American Steamship Company and Red Star Line,) who temporarily commanded the ship for that voyage. The interesting ceremony took place in the presence of Gen. Lucius Fairchild, the United States Consul at Liverpool; Professor J. E. Nourse, of the United States navy, on his way to the International Geographical convention to be held in Paris on the 8th of next month; Captain Clarke and other gentlemen.

Speaking of the profits of cotton mills an Atlanta (Ga.) paper says:

"In spite of the dullness of trade the cotton mills in Great Britain are earning handsome dividends. Some Glasgow mills have just divided twenty-five per cent; and of twenty companies in Manchester three paid, in 1874, forty per cent., twelve paid twenty-five per cent., two fifteen per cent., and three twelve per cent. The shares of many popular companies are in demand at three times their par value, with no sellers. Do not these figures overwhelmingly prove that well-managed mills amid the cotton fields would be exceedingly profitable?"

And these results are achieved more than three thousand miles away from the cotton fields that furnish the staple upon which all this manufacturing prosperity is based! With such facts before us, can we doubt that well managed cotton mills in North Carolina would handsomely?

Shooting Affair in Portsmouth—An Unfortunate Domestic Difficulty—A Supposed Mortal Wound.

Mr. Chas. P. Edwards, the well known dry good merchant, under the Ocean House, had a personal difficulty with his younger brother, Thos. Edwards, on yesterday afternoon, and shot him twice in the breast with a pistol. We gathered the following facts concerning this truly unfortunate affair:

Thomas Edwards is about 24 years of age, and is a young man of violent temper and ugly disposition. He has frequently caused disturbances in his family, and while in a bad mood yesterday he made threats to take his brother's life and to burn down his mother's house. Mrs. Edwards left her home in the afternoon and went to the store of her son Charles and told him of the threat that Thomas had made. Soon after she left the store, Thomas entered it and walked up to his brother Charles, with one hand in his breast pocket. Mr. Edwards seeing this, and knowing how desperate his brother was when angry, and also being warned of the threats he had made, very naturally thought that he was in the act of drawing a weapon, and in an instant drew his revolver and fired upon him twice, the shots taking effect in the breast. At this time Thomas was in the door-way, and staggered into the adjoining store, occupied by Mr. Thompson Baird. Mr. Baird caught him in his arms and prevented his falling. He then drew from his breast pocket a note, which he handed to Mr. Baird, and said it was an "insulting note which Charles had written him," and that he went to the store to "see him about it when he shot him."

A large crowd gathered around the wounded man, and when his person was searched no weapon was found. He was then put into a carriage and conveyed to his home, where Dr. George Maupin examined his wounds.

Mr. Charles Edwards immediately locked up his store, went to the Mayor and surrendered himself to the law, stating to Mayor Watts the substance of the above facts. The Mayor heard from Dr. Maupin that one of the wounds was dangerous, and might prove fatal, but no definite conclusion could then be arrived at, consequently His Honor remanded Mr. Edwards to jail to await further results.

We have given the particulars of this sad affair just as we heard them. Mr. Charles Edwards and his family have the sympathy of the entire community. It is evident that the shooting was the result of the mistake he made in supposing that Thomas was drawing a pistol on him, which supposition was very natural under all the circumstances.—Norfolk Virginian of Friday.

A Baltimorean's Opinion of the Black Hills.

Capt. Charles F. Lennox, of Baltimore, has just returned from the Black Hills country, and has this to say of the gold prospect there:

With regard to the prospect of gold-finding in the Black Hills the gentleman says there exists considerable difference of opinion, even among those who know the country well. There is no doubt that there is gold to be found, but not in large quantities, and it is extremely doubtful how that which is found will "pan" out. The neighborhood abounds in fine game, consisting of antelope, black and white-tail deer, bear, chickens, &c. The country is well wooded, the trees being mostly cottonwood and pine. The soil is generally sterile and barren, and but little of it would ever pay for cultivation.

Captain Lennox states that the Indians were on the move when he left, and that he has no doubt they will harass any parties who attempt to pass through to the Black Hills. On his way home he found over 10,000 men waiting at Yankton, Sioux City, Omaha, Cheyenne and other places, all bound for the newly discovered gold fields. These men, he thinks, are determined to reach their destination, and now that the Government has failed to make any treaty with the Indians, it is his opinion that the whites will attempt to take possession of the Hills in spite both of the Government and the Indians.

The new postal rates between this and nearly all the foreign countries which were fixed at Berne went into effect Thursday. Uniform rates of postage will be levied and collection in the United States on correspondence to and from all the countries represented at that Convention, excepting that of France, which will not come under the provisions of the treaty until January 1, 1876. The department has issued a circular giving the rates and such instructions as are deemed necessary. The following articles are excluded from the mails, namely: Any letter or other packet which may contain either gold or silver money, jewels or precious articles, or any other article whatever liable to Customs duties.

It is the sagacious remark of a keen observer that you can generally tell a newly-married couple at the dinner table, by the indignation of the groom when a fly alights on the bride's butter.

To the Public—A Card.

The attention of the Board of Directors of the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line Railroad Company having been called to the fact, that an act passed by the late General Assembly has been made the subject of public discussion, the Board deems it proper to submit the following statement of facts in relation thereto:

The Chatham Railroad Company was chartered by act of the Legislature of 1860-'61. During the war work was commenced on the road, but no part was completed for use.—The Convention in March 1868 passed an ordinance authorizing the exchange of one million two hundred thousand dollar State bonds with the Chatham Railroad Company, for a like amount of its bonds for the purpose of continuing the work which had been begun during the war. In this ordinance it was provided, that the company at any time before maturity might take up its bonds deposited with the Public Treasurer "by substituting in lieu thereof coupon bonds of the State, or other indebtedness of the State." To secure the payment of these bonds by the company it was required to and did execute a mortgage on its road-bed property, &c. The State had before the war exchanged bonds with other companies on terms similar to these.

The bonds thus received from the State were sold by the Company, and the proceeds used in the construction of the road. Several Amendments were made at different times to the charter of the Company, and it being its intention to extend its line by the most direct and practicable route to Augusta, Ga., its name was changed to the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroad Company.

To carry out this intention, and complete this great work, it became a matter of importance to the Company to take up its bonds held by the State, and to substitute thereupon coupon bonds of the State, which it had the right to do under the ordinance of the Convention above referred to, and which authorizes the exchange of bonds. In making the substitution, the Treasurer of the State and the officers of the Company differed in opinion as to what classes of bonds the Company had the right to substitute, and the Treasurer was bound to receive. To obtain a construction of the ordinance above referred to, and an Act of the Legislature in relation to the same subject, actions were brought by the Company against the Treasurer which were carried to the Supreme Court in order that the rights and duties of the parties might be adjudicated by the highest tribunal of the State. The decision of the Court was in effect, that the Company had the right to substitute, and the Treasurer was authorized to receive from the Company for its bonds, any valid bond or other indebtedness of the State, which had been issued or contracted prior to the passage of the ordinance above referred to, to wit: 11th, March, 1868. The Company thereupon proceeded to deliver from time to time to the State Treasurer, State bonds, the validity of which was not questioned and which had been issued before the said 11th of March, 1868.

Before the late war begun the Legislature had passed acts providing for the issue of state bonds for internal improvement purposes. Under these acts bonds were issued to railroad companies after the war begun, but they were not regarded as connected with the war and were always recognized as valid. Under the Funding Acts of 66, 67 and 68, coupons of these bonds were received by the then Treasurers of the State, to wit: (Messrs. Worth and Battle, one or both of them as they are informed) and bonds and certificates of indebtedness issued therefor, which were recognized as valid by the State and on the stock market; and in the act passed at the late session of the General Assembly entitled, "An act to compromise, commute and settle the State debt," the original bonds and bonds issued for coupons thus funded are recognized as valid and new bonds are ordered to be issued for them according to their classification. The most, if not all of these bonds, were held in this and the Southern States (as the Directors are informed) they not being recognized in the stock market North because they had on their face "Confederate States instead of United States."

The Treasurer, notwithstanding the decision of the Court which allowed the company to deliver these bonds, as the company was advised, still hesitated to receive them.

Under these circumstances it was deemed proper that the Legislature pass an explanatory act declaring the meaning and intention of previous legislation and in accordance with the decision of the Court. The act now referred to was drawn and introduced into the Legislature for that purpose. So far as the Directors know or believe there was nothing secret in the introduction or passage through that body. It being in itself right and free from objection they suppose it was passed in the usual course of business. The Journal shows the day of its introduction—that it was referred to the Committee of Internal Improvements, was reported favorably by that Committee and passed its several readings.

As a matter of law these bonds being recognized by the Legislature as valid in the act to compromise the State Debt above referred to, the Treasurer was bound to receive them without any additional legislation.

The passage of this act however cannot injure the State, since it is only additional recognition of the validity of the bonds which ought never to have been questioned, and when paid into the Treasury the State is benefitted by having her debt reduced by the amount thus paid in. But it may benefit the holders of these bonds who reside chiefly in the South by giving them a better opportunity to sell if they do not desire to fund. These Bonds are of similar value and are placed by the Bill to compromise the State Debt in the same class with the bonds issued by the State to the Road.

A copy of the act is hereto appended from which it will be seen that the whole purpose was declared in the Preamble.

Raleigh, N. C., June 30th, '75.

An act explanatory of certain acts and to enable parties holding bonds of the State issued for internal improvements under acts passed prior to the war to sell the same.

WHEREAS, under an ordinance of Convention ratified March eleventh, one thousand eight hundred and sixty eight, and an act of Assembly ratified the thirteenth of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy one, the Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line Railroad Company is authorized to pay off $1,200,000 of its second mortgage bonds held by the State Treasurer with any bonds or other indebtedness of the State; and whereas, the Public Treasurer expresses a doubt whether under the construction of said act he is authorized to receive bonds issued during the war for internal improvement purposes, but under acts passed prior to the war; and whereas further, said bonds were issued to and are now held almost exclusively by citizens of this State, and the same have been recognized as valid by the authorities of the State; now, therefore,

Section 1. The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact, That it was the true intent and meaning of the ordinance and act above referred to authorize and empower the Public Treasurer to receive any of the aforesaid internal improvement bonds in execution of the provisions of said act and ordinance.

Section 2. The Public Treasurer be and he is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to receive any of the internal improvement bonds of the State of North Carolina herein before described which may hereafter be tendered under the provisions of said act and ordinance and in execution of the same.

Section 3. This act shall be in force and after its ratification.

Ratified the 22nd day of March, A. D. 1875.

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia.

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with LOSS OF APPETITE and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The HEAD is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable LOSS OF MEMORY, accompanied with painful sensation of having LEFT UNDONE something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, DEBILITY, and low spirits. Sometimes MANY of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very FEW of them; but the LIVER is generally the organ most involved.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver or Stomach, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chills, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It acts mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any case, unless that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its being the purest and best.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The Identification of the Outlaw Applewhite—He is Carried to Robeson County.

[SPECIAL TO DAILY NEWS:]

GOLDSBORO, N. C., July 3.—Sheriff McMillan, of Robeson county, arrived to-day and proceeded to the county jail, where he identified the outlaw George Applewhite, colored, one of the notorious Lowry Gang. Upon examining Applewhite was found a large running sore in one shoulder, where he says he was shot in Robeson county. He claimed to have the rheumatism badly until the examination was made. He has been living in this community for two or three years, and went by the name of Wm. Jackson. Sheriff McMillan, and Policeman Freeman (who arrested him) carry him to Whiteville, Columbus Co., this evening, to be resentenced and await execution, he having broke jail before, after having been sentenced to death.

Beecher Before His Plymouth Congregation—They Declare an Unshaken Faith in His Integrity.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Plymouth Lecture room was crowded last night. Beecher's entrance provocked loud ovation. Sherman led in prayer, and he hoped Plymouth would join him in pledging their fidelity to Beecher and God, hoping that they would never leave him. No voice uttered from the press or pulpit could make them leave him, and ten thousand juries could not make them doubt his word. Beecher then gave out a hymn, pronounced a benediction, and the audience dispersed. Mr. Beecher's address was confined wholly to Church matters, including a running hystory of Plymouth.

The French Assembly.

PARIS, July 3.—An important meeting of three groups of the Left were held last night. 330 Deputies were present; a resolution was unanimously passed agreeing to abstain from unnecessary discussion, so that all necessary bills may be passed by the middle of August. Provision was made for the Committee to negotiate with the ministry. The Duke D. Audiffret Pasquire and the leader of other parliamentary groups with the object of fixing the day for the dissolution of the Assembly.

Affairs in Spain.

LONDON, July 3.—A Times despatch from Madrid says that Gen. Jovellar reports the defeat of the united band of Dorregaray, Cucula and Villalain between Vistoaella and Viela Franca. The Carlists suffered heavy losses and fled in disaster toward Yglesuela. The chief Villalain was killed. Gen. Campos reports a success in Catalonia. Gen. Lema has defeated Carlists who attacked Gasedolla and Bexberaua. The Madrid Government is showing great vigor towards the Carlist sympathizers, several of whom have been banished.

The California State Democratic Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The Democratic State Convention adjourned this p. m. The ticket is received throughout the State with a fair degree of satisfaction, but excites little enthusiasm. The Bulletin this evening says the Convention was run by the Central Pacific R. R. Co. The Democratic Congressional Convention of the fourth District to-day nominated P. D. Wigerston for Congress.

Victory over the Carlists.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

The Executive Committee of the National Grange in Session.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The Executive Committee of the National Grange continued their session today in this city. Dr. Worrall, representing the co-operative societies of the Higland, was introduced to the Committe and submitted for consideration a proposition for a fraternal co-operation between the Patrons of Husbandry and the co-operators of England. Dr. Worrall has four associates on route, who are daily expected to aid him in effecting this object. A sub-Committe, consisting of Mr. D. F. T. Chase, New Hampshire, and J. F. Jones, of Arkansas, was appointed to take the subject under consideration and report at the next meeting of the Committee on Monday. The Committee also had under consideration removal of the head quarters of the National Grange, but reached no conclusion. Four cities, Nashville, Louisville, Indianapolis and Cincinnati, offer special inducements. Cincinnati is especially anxious to secure the head quarters, and proposed to send a delegation of prominent citizens to Washington, to confer with the Executive Committee, but the latter say they must submit their proposition in writing, and that no delegation would be received.

Still Farther Contests Between the Rifle Teams.

NEW YORK, July 3.—A despatch from Dublin says the match for the Freemans Journal Cup to-day resulted in a tie between Maj. Fulton of the American team, and Mr. Doyle, of the Irish Association. The tie will be decided by shooting off at ordinary.

DUBLIN, July 3.—The shooting for the All Ireland Challenge Shield took place at Dollymount to-day. The competion were four members each of the Dublin, Belfast and New York clubs. OFFICIAL REPORT.

The following is the sworn report of sales of Sewing Machines made by the leading Companies for 1874. An examination of the figures below will show that the "Singer" has largely increased its sales, while the other companies have fallen off.

The Singer has shown a large increase in sales every year as the statement below for the last four years will prove.

In 1871 the Singer sold 52,734 more machines than their highest competitor.

In 1872 the Singer sold 45,695 more machines than their highest competitor.

In 1873 the Singer sold 113 251 more machines than their highest competitor.

In 1874 the Singer sold 148,852 more machines than their highest competitor.

Making the total sum of 375,137 machines which was 360,505 more than their highest competitor. This fact proves the great superiority of the "Singer" over any other machine. Now the question is, how long will this state of affairs last? How long will the other companies be able to keep offices open in the different cities and towns when they are selling so few machines?

Persons who think of buying or exchanging old ones (of whatever kind) are invited to consult their interest by getting a reliable machine from the old and reliable Singer Manufacturing Company.

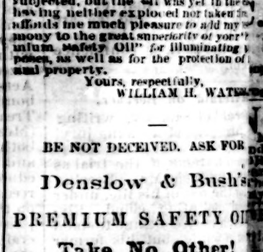
THE NEEDLE COTTON GIN



The American Needle Gin now offered in its sixth year. During the past year its reputation has been widely extended by its successful operation—commanding at many of the Southern fairs, and having every first premiums. In the gin-house it will pay its most successful competitor. At a trip from one of our agents Condenser Gins in Georgia, reported that during the ginning season he ginned 70 bales of cotton." In South Carolina one of the same size ginned a bale weighing 500 pounds in forty-five minutes. From many other reports the fact is positively established that a fifty circle will gin a bale in sixty-five minutes. At Wilmington, N. C. Fair a forty circle gin ginned 1000 pounds seed cotton in six minutes, producing thirty-six pounds of lint. At the State Fair of South Carolina, held at Columbia in December last, a Thirty Circle Condenser was run in the open air through wet boxes of partly ginned cotton, without setting fire to the cotton or injuring the needle.

Safest, Purest, Best!!

SAFE AS A TALLOW CANDLE.

Read the following letter to the manufacturers:

MORT HAVEN, Westchester Co., N. Y., January 12th, 1875.

Messrs. DENSLOW & BUSH, New York.

Gentlemen:—My store at this place was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the instant. On removing the rubbish from the ruins we found several cans containing "Premium Safety Oil," and on opening some of them had the nozzles melted off and others were firmly soldered together by the intense heat to which they had been subjected, but the oil was yet in the cans, having neither exploded nor taken fire. It affords me much pleasure to add my testimony to the great superiority of your petroleum safety Oil" for illuminating purposes, as well as for the protection of personal property.
